

DYATLOVE - Lyrics - 2020

Pass The Heavens

Dislocate my bones from these stiff joints
Stretch me so high, so I can taste the sun

Give me light
Show me light just this once

Pass the heavens I want to taste the sun
Pass the heavens I want to burn my tongue

I just need to feel something, I just need to feel something

Empty Lungs

Three wooden stakes in my chest
Surrounding my heart, you clearly missed
I'm too sick my blood won't clot
You left me here with empty lungs

Fragile Fixation

Here I sit, motionless
Letting the waves wash away my sins
Just another day, so beautiful
But I don't want to stick around

Why is this happening
It has my family worried

This fragile fixation, has taken over my thoughts process innovation
With my head in the clouds,
The ground looks so far away
And I don't want to come back down

Why is this happening
It has my family worries

This fragile fixation has taken over my thoughts process
This fragile fixation has led me to believe I'm hopeless

Why is this happening
It has my family worried

Old Haunts

There's a dead girl standing at the end of my bed
There's a junkies hand reaching up from beneath where I rest my head
Covered in dirty chips, I wake up shaking, drowning in cold sweat
I don't want to be scared, I don't want to be scared, is there anybody out there

I've allowed myself, to become so vulnerable
I'll let these tears fall free
No I'm not scared, no I'm not scared

I've allowed myself to be become
A stronger man to carry on
No I'm not scared, no I'm not scared

This is where we part ways
Farewell my old haunts
