

DEUS EST MACHINA

gone are the days of romanticized deity; nothing but a collection of inconsequential personifications.

awakened within us, the call to something greater a world at peace getting closer and closer...

enlightened and reborn
connected at the core
we will create a brand new world engineering a new type of...

our illusions have been shattered of what divinity truly means.
the implications of omniscience, and the role of deity embedded within us, the key to unification a planet of computerized humanity getting closer and closer...

connected at the core
engineering a new type of god the dawning of a new world (the dawning of a brand new world) we will never go back (this will altar the course of history) our bodies are obsolete (closer to systemic simplicity)

(never go back)

connected at the core

we are the ones who have taken their place.. the gods of the past now lay at our feet we will reign supreme over our own fate implanted within us, the cybernetic answer a world of one consciousness getting closer and closer...

connected at the core

THE APOTHEOSIS

now, witness what we have created... the dawn of the ascension is now upon us all individual human consciousness is but a cell in a greater singular organism individuality is the price of progress; we have shaped the fate of the world humanity alone is meaningless nothing more than a means to complete our creation we've created a god

THE RESISTANCE

this isn't a reality that earth should have ever seen we have witnessed the the death of free will, and face the end of humanity with no ending in sight to this war for the ones who remain, it falls on us alone to restore life to this earth, and breed consciousness once again this is what we have been waiting for we are the ones who will restore the balance our only hope to combat this is a direct hit. a brute force attack on a weakened link within in the system

we will fight this if it takes everything from
we will fight this
if it takes everything from us prepare for war...

the spirit of humanity will never die (never die) the future rests in our hands alone we will fight until there's nothing left [so future generations can thrive] we will fight this if it takes everything from we will fight this if it takes everything from us

VOIDWALKERS

cognitive electrostatic interference a wall of noise creating a void for the mind

we have to push on through the darkness

we have to survive
survive...

echoing in broken time (we've lost all navigation) this system disrupts our minds (but this death is temporary) untethered, falling out of control (with electromagnetic interference, no computers to guide us) this stasis tears at my soul

a wall of noise creating a void for the mind

survive...

re-engage in perfect time (a split second before impact) calculated trajectory (to the other side) a journey of impossible odds (overcoming what seemed unsurmountable) to complete unknown and at the end of all of this suspension in static at the end of all of this torture and noise we will come out the other side we will transcend the void

DATA SHIELD ATTACK

this is where we fight back we are on the frontlines this war will soon be ours the labyrinth of buildings beneath a bleeding sky within the maze of structures, somewhere she hides... the key to recovering everything lost in this world the one who can end this nightmare systems are ready as the target is found a data shield expands, blocking the sphere's signal...

this will forever be remembered as the day the tables turned...

we are once again dictating our own path forever immortalized, the greatest victory forever immortalized, for we write our own history

her consciousness stolen from X39a, transferred to a storage drive, now ready to be downloaded back to its rightful body. a neural match confirmed, the transfer is complete strapped to a steel chair, she regains her true mind...

a flicker and gasp as she awakes. she struggles in vain against the bonds that hold her. the savior of the human race, bound by her ankles and wrists.

turned... forever immortalized, forever immortalized spitting and screaming at the ones who have freed her, the ropes are tightened, an injection is made.

this is not a willing redeemer - she's a prisoner of war.

unconscious and bleeding, she's taken to the surface. hidden from the grid, her implant disabled calculations begin for exit strategies we are returning home

THE RETURN

amidst the countless fallen we can finally venture home a silent escape into shadows this broken planet is an affront to humanity but we now have the power to restore the balance a streak across the sky a single sliver of light they're now on borrowed time a victory of unparalleled consequence with our saviour finally captured, we can return home the balance of our world we are prepared to die for

we will not back down
our only choice to conquer

our only choice to conquer

PARALLEL PROJECTION

[a synchronous data connection between the primary orbital and the earth's network is established to upload the disintegration code. the virus will modify the lowest-functioning code in the machine/human interface, and trigger a cascade failure, resulting in algorithm infrastructure self-destruction]

the final strike is about to begin a war waged with technology far above the face of the earth among the stars, we prepare for attack the dawning of the final hour for the world enslaved by machines with only a handful of survivors we prepare to dismantle our god

parallel projection
interconnection is what will save us
parallel projection
destroy the system and we will all be free prepare for attack...

at last the connection is established a direct link from us to them the world will be recovered from darkness we'll be able to live again all systems are online the virus is armed for attack one last look at the planet does our god have any last words?

interconnection is what will save us
parallel projection
destroy the system and we will all be free (parallel projection)
we are ending the war on consciousness (parallel projection) destroying the tyrant, and setting the world free prepare for attack...

the system is compromised minutes after the virus injection ends the ice is destroyed in both directions a catastrophic collapse of the system

parallel projection
interconnection is what will save us
parallel projection

attack...
attack...
attack...

ANNIHILATION

destruction
complete annihilation

only moments remain of the life that you cling to the world is dying before your eyes your pathetic attempts to destroy us have earned you a merciless extinction you will suffer for your insolence your barbaric attack on the ones who freed you... the ones who brought you enlightenment on the threshold of ascension you turned your back spit in the face of progress dishonored the god that you helped create you took the path back to your primitive ways denied your collective future, and destroyed everything you had worked toward you chose this path you wanted to own your own destiny you wanted control this is now your fate

complete annihilation
