

Vultures

I'm done paying for everyone's mistakes
Imprisoned in this hole for more than I can take
There's something going on
There's something going on
A beast that you can never lay your eyes upon
Can't take it anymore
Won't take it anymore
People around me fall like flies unto the floor

So go ahead and kick me while I'm down
I won't fall

I won't fall for your deceit
There isn't more than the eye can meet
I won't crawl to seek your truth
The only ache that I can't soothe

Slowly falling down the rabbit hole
Sinking deeper and deeper like I'm a russian doll
There's something going on
There's something going on
A wound serrated where justice is overthrown
Can't take it anymore
Won't take anymore
Your words are like a blunt blade into my backbone

I won't fall for your deceit

There isn't more than the eye can meet

I won't crawl to seek your truth

The only ache that I can't soothe

I see the vultures are circling

Awaiting our impending doom

And i'll just keep on pretending

That I'm not 3 steps away from my tomb

Fuck

I won't fall for your deceit

There isn't more than the eye can meet

I won't crawl to seek your truth

The only ache that I can't soothe
