

Wake
Wake in a cold sweat still wondering
Why
Why silent screams are haunting your Dreams
Dreams that shattered, there's nothing left
Nothing left of what you were

We take
Take everything there's nothing left
Nothing left, still offering
Still offering the last of what you were

We feast on your fear
We prey on your pain
The sentence severe
We aim for the vein

You must die to awake the darkness
Hide in shadows
Cast out of the light
To begin new life in the night

We break
Break all the ties that bind us down
That bind us down, to set us free
To set us free from what we were
From what we were and left behind

Lend us your fear
Forfeit your pain
We disappear
To life lost in vain

You must die to awake the darkness
Hide in shadows
Cast out of the light
To begin new life in the night

We aim for the vein
We feast on your fear
We prey on new blood

We feast on your fear
We prey on your pain
The sentence severe
We aim for the vein
Lend us your fear
Forfeit your pain
We disappear
To life lost in vain

You must die to awake the darkness
Hide in shadows
Cast out of the light
To begin new life in the night
New Blood

You must die to awake the darkness
Hide in shadows
Cast out of the light
To begin new life in the night

New Blood
