

Derev - Troubled Mind

Album Lyrics

Buried Voice

Come forth troubled brother
Step outside your cell
Confined by your own notions
You hold the key in your hand
Come forth troubled brother
Let the truth sink in
The lies you live are bearing
A villain born within

The bitter guilt you're hiding now unfolds
Piercing through your soul
Buried voice of conscience you ignored
Rise to take its toll

Hefty burdens piling over
Weigh heavy on your heart
Regrets you kept unspoken
Suppressed and left to rot
They drag you down
And watch you drown

The bitter guilt you're hiding now unfolds
Piercing through your soul
Buried voice of conscience you ignored
Rise to take its toll

Blinded by my swollen pride
Didn't realize I'm lost in a void
Forever crawling beneath this burden
But now I see the sun
The damage I've done
It's time I face what I've become
It's time I face what I've become
A hideous sinner, frail who can't go on

Tonight's the night
My fate I fight
Eyes towards the light
As my worlds collide

I stand to face the storm
This monster I have grown
To conquer all my sins
And find my way back home

Come forth troubled brother
Let your truth sink in
Confined by your own notions
You hold the key in your hand

Cyclone

Soon as I am still
It starts without a warning
Fills my head, it's all I can hear
Relentless berating,
Persistently hating
It's in my head, and argues everything

A voice that pulls me under
Hides behind my eyes
Takes me back to every blunder
As it tears me up inside

You won't let go
Won't give up
Chasing me down
Down where all my demons lie
You won't succumb
Won't see who I've become
Kept me locked inside these walls
Parading my faults all around me

The pain I've caused others
The lies I've always covered
Are in my head, undeniably

The brothers I've let down
On my way up to the sky
Remain forever there
Running circles in your head

You won't let go
Won't give up
Chasing me down
Down where all my demons lie
You won't succumb
Kept me locked inside these walls
Parading my faults all around me

You won't let go
You won't let go
You won't let go

You won't let go

Room 9

I don't know where to begin
I'm getting lost inside my own mind
Delusions pass and creep back in
I'm losing grip on what's real and what's not

Round and round, an endless trail I run
Round and round, my sanity is gone
The chaos within keeps raging on

Falling into space
Can't escape this maze
These walls are getting high
I'm running out of breath
Stuck in my own thoughts
Help me break these chains
Get me out of this mind

I don't know how to go on
My head is light and my body's numb
Beneath my skin I feel someone Too scared to face this freak that I've become

Round and round, an endless trail I run
Round and round, my lunacy takes on
This dread won't end now it's begun

Falling into space
The walls are getting high
I'm running out of breath
Stuck in my own thoughts

Tides of Time

In the tides of time
A lost soul wallows
Stranded by the years grew hollow
Helpless child
Stuck in a limbo of a memory, gone
Left you blind and all alone
Left you all alone

A place so far away
Bound you there to stay
Trapped inside your own shell
Light that paved the way
Faded, gone astray
And left you all alone
Holding on to the tides of time
You're on your own
Holding on
To the shadow alive
Inside your head
Captive to a silhouette

Let the rain wash away
The scars of memories
Echo in your heart
Tearing you apart

Deep within your fear
Lies your closure
The pain you hold so dear
Will soon be over
The past you kept confined
Lingers in your mind
It's time to leave it all behind

Let the rain wash away
The scars of memories
Echo in your heart
Tearing you apart

Darker Self

Rise up and shake the dust off your Shoulders of steel, callused fingertips
It's been a while since you were needed here

Fearful, we elude what lies inside
A ruthless monster forced to hide
Our darker self we paralyzed

You've been suppressed for far too long
Pushed down in silence without a voice

In my darkest hour
Set the fire

Denied, in darkness, cast aside
My world decays while you live on

Without you I've been pushed around
My hollowed bones are filled with doubt

In my darkest hour
I need your fire

When the world is pulled beneath my feet
Mislead, I'm carried down in the deep
When they blatantly lie through their teeth
Won't you set it all on fire

In my darkest hour
Set the fire
Take me higher

In my darkest hour
Set the fire

A Trace Within

Found your trace carved in stone
Forsaken cast away, a benighted ghost
Beneath the dust and smoke
I heard your cries
For you I sing this song
Through somber road,
I walk a thousand miles
To feel your warmth pass me by

Deep within a sea of sorrow
I'm drowning still
Time heals the wounds of your loss
But the scars remain
To ease the pain
I call your name
Come back again
Back again

Deep within a sea of sorrow
I'm drowning still
But the scars remain
To ease the pain
I call your name
Come back again
Back again

To ease the pain
I call your name
Come back again
Back again

To ease the pain
I call your name
Come back again
Back again
