

DEATH OF DON VALLEY LYRICS

BURN FOR MURDER

Break me, Stalk him, Leave alone
Break me
Over and over till I fall apart
Break me
It's all over now
Break me
You won't have to feel no more

They say they Burn for Murder
I don't want to die
I can feel it's over
Makes you wonder why

EYE WITNESS

Walking out
Clear my head
Your last words
Sinking in
Burn your soul
Tear your skin
Showing death
Change within

Piercing through your head
Watching as my skin crawls, Now my senses dull
Last word gone unsaid
There's no need to stand tall, It's a higher fall
Bloodprint silhouette
Everything was my fault, I left you to crawl
Last words gone unsaid
Adding pain to insult, It's fucking killing you
And now as a result, It's fucking killing me

Piercing through your head
Watching as your skin crawls, Now your senses dull
Last word gone unsaid
There's no need to stand tall, It's a higher fall
Bloodprint silhouette
Everything was your fault, You left me to crawl
Last words gone unsaid
Adding pain to insult, It's fucking killing us

BURDEN

Crush your dreams that you could change your ways
It's too late now just to say the truth
All life lessons begin to fade
Who are you once it's been removed

Memory starts to fade

Take it all
Walk away
The end is near why should you care
It's too late to change, You can't be saved
Sky will fall
While earth decays
Passion falls into a blank stare
Living is strange, In time it will fade
For you

Your whole life now you've tried to be the same
As though you hate so now you feel doomed
Everything about you is just a name
Who are you once it's been removed

ASTRAY

Steadily spreading across a line
Chance of escape now lost to time
A deep breath and you will feel the change
Who you are is now rearranged

Years gone by it's all lost to time
Swept up and thrown away
Years gone by it's all lost to time
Your life has now gone astray

When it's done, it's done, You can't turn back
Time has run away
Taken strides, Crossing lines
Nothing's here to stay
Change of heart, May fall apart
Many wasted days
You'll go blind, Become realigned
Skin turns grey

GUIDING HAND

Under siege
Guiding hand
Cold machine
Taking stand

Hands to hold
Far between
Coldest steel
Come to me

FROZEN LIMBS

Holding onto life, Struggle through the night
God give me your hand
Fallen from the sky, Chance chooses who dies
Living off the land
Blood is now on my hands, New true test of man
I don't mind the taste
Feasting on this guilt, From my guts you spilt
God give me your hand

Even though I'm found everything has changed
All these things I've done left me feeling strange
Even though I'm found everything has changed
Saver of my life watching slowly die

Fighting for my life
Crawling on my hands and knees
Carving with my knife
Frozen limbs I will feast
Tearing out my heart
Guilt is now eating me
Rescue begins to start
Setting in, I've been freed

BLISS

Eyes open up to see new life

My bodies changing and where do I stand now
I feel mistaken and left behind, Unfound
As this keeps changing and things fall deeper
Act out wrongs, Change what's right, Feeling weaker

Every day feels like the last and it consumes your mind

The smallest changes make you question why you have this life
Overwhelmingness of trying to not be like a fool
And constant emptiness makes you feel like you've lost your fuel

Eyes dimmer, Everything changes

Some days go so wrong, Trapped down in a ditch
Accept and move on and try to unhitch

It cuts you down but might build you up
Try to get around ends up hitting like a truck
Doors get slammed now you're out of luck
Life gets jammed now you're the only one stuck
And now I've watched it all slowly disappear
Memories fade becoming unclear
Life has darkened and I've been left behind
Though it's over there's one last thing to find

One last thing to find

Although I've been wakened
Everything is changing
(Everything has changed)

Once what worried me has turned to peace itself
Now it's all that makes me think I have escaped this hell
Once what worried me has turned to peace itself
Now I hope it follows me when I give my farewell

Everything you said has turned out right
Every moment to the end of time
When I'm gone it all becomes aligned
In these last moments before you die

Eyes closing one last time to die

GOLDEN

As balance shifts you're stumbling
Everything now has to fall
In times of change you're struggling
Feels like you're running through walls
Our anchor on the verge of death
Who could it be that's at fault
The world now is crumbling
Everything now has to halt

My bodies now a piece of waste
As I take my last breath

No time or hope to find away
To find your life within death

You're gonna die
In golden rays
A permanent darkness
A world with no face
