

Lyrics:

Blindside:

I'm a prisoner inside my head
Feeling disguised of what's unsaid
I can see through your field of lies
There was never time to compromise

Blinded by your fear
Never had a chance to say what's unclear
Blinded by your fear

You're left alone, feeling so dead
The time is now, past is so red
I can see through your field of lies
It was all just a blindside.

Blinded by your fear
never had a chance to say what's unclear
Blinded by your fear
Never had a chance to say what's unclear

Eternity
Adversity
Diversity
Absurdity

I'm a prisoner inside my head

Static Vein:

We are the takers of land
This life we don't understand
What do we make of this life
If we're all burning inside

We're burying them alive - Suffocation
While they are burning up inside - Retribution
As this war feels so long - Static creation
Everything we do is wrong
Let's change the station

This world grows so cold
Ending life, feeling bold
Watching time go on by
We're already burning up inside

Reclaim the power at hand
All odds take a stand
Feed the flame burning white
We're already burning up inside

We're burying them alive - Suffocation
While they are burning up inside - Retribution
As this war feels so long - Static creation
Everything we do is wrong
Let's change the station

You want me gone
I know your next move
I see your pain
Of what i put you through
Now matter how
How hard you try
You want to live
I'll watch you die

We're burying them alive - Suffocation
As this war feels so long - Static creation
Everything we do is wrong
