

Nova Spei – Uprooted

GoogleTranslated

The disappearance of souls
across a large part of the territory.
For the great victory
of the powerful and inquisitorial man.

The majority conforms
in a prehistoric tone.
Through blood and power,
Starved, placed on the deathbed.

Social control;
a demonstration of brutal power.
Look at the reflection in the mirror,
it shows you the worst culprit.

Racial control;
a genocide without trial.
You built on a massacre
In your unpunished world

Without thinking too much, without lying to ourselves too much,
the worst desire is to become a martyr.
A people cast aside,
a nation uprooted.

Rewriting history to its advantage,
covering up the carnage and turning the page.
Indoctrinating with false ideas
In order to dominate them all.

Social control;
a demonstration of brutal power.
Look at the reflection in the mirror,
it shows you the worst culprit.

Racial control;
a genocide without trial.
You built on a massacre
In your unpunished world

From the ashes dissipates the suffering of a forgotten people.
From the ashes dissipates the vengeance of a massacred people.

Builder and butcher!
Seeing all this horror makes my heart ache!
A radical, inhumane, almost sudden method!
Half-buried, a grave violation of integrity!

Social control....
Racial control....

From the ashes dissipates the suffering of a forgotten people.
From the ashes dissipates the vengeance of a massacred people...
